

HAPPY NEW YEAR, LOCH RAVEN VILLAGE!

Letter from the President

I hope you enjoyed the holiday season and that 2013 is off to a good start for you and your families. This year, there are some developments in our community that I am very excited about and hope that you are too!

- Board member Leslie Vallade has spearheaded the formation of the non-profit Fireworks Foundation. This group will take responsibility for organizing the annual fireworks display.
- We're moving into the 21st century, and I hope you will join us. If you haven't already, "like" us on Facebook, visit our website regularly, and pay your dues with PayPal!

If you're someone who makes New Year's resolutions, I invite you to make a community-related one. Can you spare an hour or two each month? There are things you could do to help our community.

You could:

- Volunteer with our Citizens on Patrol (COP) and patrol your area of the Village. For more information, e-mail John Kelly at LRVillageCOP@aol.com.
- Write an article for the Crier and submit it to lrvcriereditor@gmail.com.
- Attend a monthly Associates of Loch Raven Village (ALRV) board meeting. We gather the second Tuesday of the month at 7 p.m. at the Loch Raven Center (see Events calendar inside for upcoming dates).
- Get to know your neighbors and help those who may need it. Lend a hand and enjoy friendly conversation on a regular basis.

I look forward to another wonderful year in Loch Raven Village and hope to see you at a board meeting soon!

Gretchen Sarkin
President

Save the Date for the Annual Meeting

ALRV MEETINGS

Meetings are held on the second Tuesday of each month

7 p.m., Room 102

Loch Raven Center

1801 Glen Keith Boulevard.

Residents are encouraged to attend, and to help in our ongoing work "to protect, maintain, and enhance the property values of Loch Raven Village homes, and the quality of life of Loch Raven Village residents."

Getting to Know You

This feature shines the spotlight on Village residents who make a difference in our community. Do you know someone worthy of being featured? E-mail lvrcrriereditor@gmail.com.

This issue of the Crier shines the spotlight on board member Leslie Vallade. If you have had the privilege of watching beautiful fireworks in Loch Raven Village on the 4th of July, you have Leslie to thank!

How long have you lived in Loch Raven Village?

Thirteen years.

What do you do for a living?

I'm a service coordinator/patient advocate for Johns Hopkins Hospital. I also am a recovery specialist for a local eye and tissue bank.

Is there anything about you for which you are known among friends and neighbors?

I'm a huge advocate for organ and tissue donation. Most would say I'm a busy body. I'm a proud member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc. I've worked hard to keep the 4th of July Fireworks in the Village.

If you didn't live in Loch Raven Village, where do you think you would live?

I would move back to New York City.

Loch Raven Academy Food Pantry

For the second year in a row, Loch Raven Academy is working in conjunction with the Maryland Food Bank to offer food pantry services during the school year. The pantry was given life by school Principal Stacey Johnson and is managed by two of the school's guidance counselors, Ms. Jessica Deshields and Ms. Andrea Telford. Last year the school helped approximately 60 families.

The school's goal is to give back to the community by helping those who need assistance. The pantry is open on dates that coincide with holidays, such as Thanksgiving and Christmas. It is staffed by volunteers made up of staff, PTSA members, students, family, and friends. Ms. Johnson hopes to meet the needs of as many families as possible this year. In addition to the food supplied by the Maryland Food Bank, many teachers donate frozen turkeys. Anyone wishing to make a contribution of cash or a frozen turkey may bring it to the school office.

The pantry will be open again on March 23 from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m.

COP Crime Prevention Tip

Did you get a new bike for Christmas? Do you already own one? Make note of the following crime prevention tips to ensure you don't lose it!

- Record the make, model, and serial number and keep this information in a safe place. The serial number can be found on the underside of the pedal crankshaft.
- Store your bike inside your house or in a locked shed.
- Lock your bike to a sturdy structure when you arrive at your destination. A free-standing bike, even if left unattended for a few minutes, is an invitation for someone to take it for a permanent ride!

If your bike disappears, call Precinct 6 at 410-887-2361 and ask to speak to Office Kathy Kraemer. If recovered by police, your bike will be logged by its serial number and kept for 30 days.

Thank you, Santa!

On behalf of the residents of Loch Raven Village, the ALRV board members would like to send a special thank you to Santa, who visited our community on Saturday, December 15. Santa was greeted by well-wishers, pets, children, and adults as he rode through the Village! We can't wait to see you again next year, Santa!

Will There Be Snow This Winter?

Could this be a snowy winter? Kids love snow because schools often close. Adults tend to dislike the shoveling and tenuous driving conditions that result from it. Whether or not we'll have a snowy winter is anyone's guess. The best plan is to be prepared. Are you "shovel ready" for winter 2013?

Residents are reminded that public sidewalks adjacent to their property are required to be shoveled as soon as possible after a snowfall. This is a county regulation (and much appreciated by pedestrians!). If you have a neighbor who could use a helping hand, your assistance is greatly appreciated.

KIDS' CRIER

Attention Loch Raven Village youth! Kids' Crier is your page in the Village Crier. I'm your "hostess," Lexie Hagen, a seventh grader at Loch Raven Academy, and I want to give you the opportunity to share your voice with the Village! Have a great story idea or article you would like to share? E-mail it to me at lrvcriereditor@gmail.com.

Tutti Frutti is a Village Beauty!

I think that Tutti Frutti, located at 8600 LaSalle Road, is absolutely delicious. It is well organized and the perfect place to go for dessert or an after-school snack. I went there with a couple of my friends and we loved it!

When you first enter Tutti Frutti, you are greeted with colorful walls, seats, tables, and signs; everything is appealing to the eye. You grab a cup (whatever size you want – large or larger!) and check out the available flavors. The flavors are always changing too, which is why it's the perfect place to go for any occasion.

You get a variety of tastes and flavors. Some you might not like and some you might just fall in love with! (I love the mango flavor but don't really like the coconut.) Two flavors always available are chocolate and vanilla, which are really good too.

After you have picked out your flavor, there is a whole counter filled with toppings. There are many different fruits, sauces, gummies, sprinkles, cookies, cereals, candies . . . whatever you want!

When you are finished choosing your flavors and toppings, a very polite staff member weighs your cup on the scale and out comes a price. You pay by the ounce. Finally, you pick out whatever spoon color you want and enjoy!

Pleasant Plains Students Give Back in an Artistic Way

Over the last month, first and third grade students at Pleasant Plains Elementary designed shell artwork to benefit the victims of Hurricane Sandy. Under the direction of art teacher Ann Valuntis, the students created beautiful magnets, pins, and ornaments using shell-like materials. They proceeded to showcase and sell their works during the school's annual winter concert on December 12. The students' sales totaled $100, all of which will be donated to the Hurricane Sandy New Jersey Relief Fund. This local effort was part of a national project called "Shells for NJ Shores." Production of "Big Bad" a Success at LRA

The Wishing Star Theatre at Loch Raven Academy hosted a dinner theatre production of Big Bad in December. In this whimsical show, a "big bad" wolf is put on trial for her crimes against the many fairy tale characters of the Enchanted Forest. The cast served a delicious spaghetti dinner to the audience prior to the show. While dessert was served, audience members cast their vote on the guilt or innocence of the big bad wolf. Congratulations to the cast and crew on a job well done!

Crunchy Delight: Two Village Restaurants Offer Premium Fried Chicken

By Brendan Bailey

Residents of Loch Raven Village surely have found their mouths watering as they drive up the Boulevard. The aroma of fried chicken permeates the air and induces seemingly limitless pangs of hunger for crispy poultry. The culprits are Hip Hop Fried Chicken and Chicken Paul, just a few blocks away from one another. For the Villager in search of that perfect poultry, which location do you choose? This inquiring reviewer sought to discover who offered the best chicken in the Village. It was a challenge worth the calories.

An inauspicious store front with only one or two spots to sit down, Chicken Paul is more unassuming than its competitor. It earned its credibility in 2011 when Baltimore Magazine named it Baltimore's Best Fried Chicken. Chicken Paul offers waffles, a small variety of fish, and orders of buffalo wings to go. They also offer two French fry varieties. This reviewer preferred the Western style, which were crispy on the outside with a soft, hot interior. But this review is not about spuds; it is about the chicken, and Chicken Paul delivers in a big way. Chicken Paul keeps little chicken waiting on its hot racks, and for good reason. Their chicken is generally fried in small batches so it sits out for minimal time and is hot and juicy when you order it. The thin layer of batter is almost flaky, but it packs a savory seasoned flavor. The wings were small and the dark meat selections were a little dryer than I might prefer, but the breasts were huge and incredibly juicy, seemingly capturing the perfect balance of moist and crunchy. The friendly staff was courteous and kind, and offered a variety of seasonings and sauces for me to choose from after I paid. Chicken Paul offers good chicken at a reasonable price, but they aren't the only chicken slinger in town.

Just south of their quiet shop, Hip Hop Fried Chicken is always packed with customers. Their parking lot is nearly impossible to enter on any given evening, and the line to order is usually 4 or 5 customers deep. No matter; the short wait is worth it once the crispy delight they offer finds its way onto your plate. Hip Hop offers a more extensive menu, particularly in terms of fish varieties. They also offer a bevy of side orders such as veggies, beans, fries, and macaroni, but this reviewer highly recommends the corn nuggets, which are fried pockets of corn and creamy cheese. The star of the show is of course the chicken. Hip Hop's legs were meaty, moist, and tender. Their wings were gigantic and covered in a thick coating of crispy batter. The breasts were a bit dry, but their chicken tenders were massive and very flavorful. Hip Hop's unique seasoning blend, applied right after the chicken is removed from the fryer, offers a sweet but piquant touch to the bird that is always fried to order, guaranteeing that it is fresh, sizzling, and ready to be savored. Hip Hop trumps Chicken Paul in price as well, offering incredible discounts on trays ranging from 20 to 100 pieces.

Overall, both restaurants offer savory, delectable delight to those in search of crispy poultry paradise, but Hip Hop's pricing, menu, and quality of chicken trump their competitor in subtle ways. Chicken Paul may have been "Best in Baltimore," but this reviewer gives Hip Hop "Best in the Village."

“Paperless Classroom” to Pilot at Loch Raven Academy

Students enrolled in the law and finance magnet program at Loch Raven Technical Academy will start 2013 with new technology. The Baltimore County school board approved funding for a pilot “paperless classroom” program in November. Seventy students will be assigned tablets for use in school and at home, the content of which will be managed by teachers. The incorporation of tablet technology in the classroom will better reflect the contemporary digital world and is the first of its kind in a Maryland county school. The students are excited about the start of the program and Principal Stacey Johnson is hopeful that it ultimately will be replicated for use by the entire student body.

Pet Locator Reunites Lost Dog with Owner

Have you seen the listing for the Pet Locator on Page 2 of the Crier? Have you wondered what the Pet Locator does or if this person ever has any luck helping owners find their lost pets? Recently, this system worked for one Village resident!

Board member Leslea Knauff was recently contacted by a resident who found a lost Yorkie. The resident reached out to the Pet Locator to supply the necessary information about the dog, as did the dog’s owners. Within a matter of hours, the dog and its owners were happily reunited!

Correct guesses for last issue's beauty were submitted by many readers (Mia Clare Cucuzzella, Barbara Carden, and Nicholas Dance, to name a few!). The featured beauty was Minnie, a Dachshund owned by COP leader John Kelly. Congratulations to Sam Cucuzzella whose name was randomly drawn from all the correct guesses.

Do you know the mystery beauties pictured here? Submit your guess to lrvcriereditor@gmail.com by Friday, January 25. All correct guesses will be entered into a random drawing for a $10 Panera gift card. The beauties and their owner(s) will be revealed in the next issue of the Crier.
